educated men like Mr. Chambers and Mr. Hiss, both holding positions of distinction and responsibility, tell stories that brand one or the other of them as an unmitigated liar.

Life, we feel, was a lot pleasant in the earlier era of this age of doubt and confusion when the government's whole budget wasn't much bigger than the disputed surplus or deficit, and when the fear of eternal hellfire and brimstone hung over the head of any one who lied under oath.

Republicans Nominate Lumberman

By JIM THOMASSON

Little Rock, Sept. 2 — (AP) — Charles R. Black, coming hard-wood lumber manufacturer, was nominated today as the Republican candidate for governor of Arkansas.

The action was taken by the Republican state committee here. The committee decided not to nominate candidates for other state offices in order to concentrate campaign efforts on the presidential election, the governor's race and "the fair election law."

Wallace Townsend, Arkansas GOP national committeeman, who nominated Black, said the party had high hopes for adoption of the proposed initiative act which would give a statutory representative on state and county election boards and in selection of election officials.

He said that act, giving the minority party legal recognition, defines the minority party as the one receiving the second highest vote for governor.

Black, in accepting the nomination, declared that "should my friends and neighbors elect me in November" he would "proceed to give this state a general house cleaning such as Mr. Dewey proposes to do in Washington after Jan. 20."

After nominating its candidate for governor and deciding against any other state candidates, the committee went into executive session to discuss plans for the general election campaign.

A man who described himself as "a lifelong Democrat" was the keynote speaker at the Republican session.

He is Jefferson W. Speck of Frenchman's Bayou, Mississippi county, 31-year-old World War Two hero, whose address was a brief denunciation of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Henry A. Wallace and Harry S. Truman.

Adrenalin in Skin
Dried toad skins were used by the ancient Chinese doctors in treating wounds. Now scientists have found a toad skin actually does contain adrenalin.

THE STORY: Hilary Shensone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England, Nuns Farthing, his family's country home. He doesn't know that the house has been left and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return. Next thing Hilary is aware of, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems conscious of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother, George, has been sitting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancée. At first, he thinks it's all a dream. Then with dismay he overhears a report of his own death. Shocked at first, he later decides to enjoy the situation. After spending the night in a room at the club, he wanders around a London next day. He makes up his mind to look into the matter of George and Alice.

"Ah, but Ponsunby swears he jumped out of bed at once and closed the door. The passage was empty. But he's positive that something had opened that door and was surprised to see him there, and went away leaving it only."

"I never heard of anything so absurd!" she cried. "The latch gave in a draught, of course."

"I know. We all said that. But there's another thing."

"Well, what?"

"Last night somebody slept in a room that was supposed to be empty."

"Oh, George, really?"

"I'm only telling you what they said. A room that hadn't been booked for several nights had its bed slept in last night. But there's no trace of the occupant—Hinton, if you'll bring up the makings, added George, I'll shake up a White Lady before lunch."

"Yes sir," said Hinton and withdrew again.

"And that's not all," George continued impressively, and produced the ultimate manifestation. "The fellow in the next room heard the bath water being run by the fellow in the empty room."

"Now, George, you're not trying to tell me your ghost took a bath?"

"That's the story! Ponsunby is going to write to the Society for Psychical Research!"

"Men are so silly! He was probably scaring himself to death with a detective story when it happened. George, I've had another letter from those people down at Nuns Farthing."

"What people?" demanded Hilary, astonished.

Practical Courtship

Undoubtedly many unhappy marriages could be prevented if, during the engagement, the prospective bridegroom would stop asking Sweetums: "Do you love me—will you always love me—would you pine away and die of a broken heart if I ever left you?"

He might, for instance, open the questionnaire by saying: "Darling, I feel that I am the most blessed of men in having you for my bride, but before we go any further with this matter, tell me what is your domestic rating? Are you allergic to the kitchen, or is it your favorite haunt where you perform culinary miracles?"

"Do you thrill at the sight of pots and pans, or do they give you that tired feeling? Can you cook like my Mother, or will your coffee always furnish grounds for divorce? I love you, but I also have a passion for good food and, inasmuch as when I marry I will put my stomach as well as my heart in my wife's hands, would you like to know what risks I am taking?"

Or he might say: "Angel of my soul, how do you stand on the financial proposition? Can you run a budget, or do you think money was made to throw at the birds? I am no tightwad, but the prospect of spending my life slaving for dressmakers and milliners does not allure me and so, unless you can get as much of a kick out of helping me make a fortune as you out of running me in debt, you had better transfer your heartthrobs to some guy whose father guessed right about the stock market."

Part-Time Wife

Or he might disguise his real intent for finding out whether, if he married her, he would have to do the marketing, get the children off to school, and darn his socks, because she would be off attending a convention, or delivering a lecture, or selling a bill of goods, by saying:

"Dream Girl, do you regard marriage as a career or a chore? Do you think that making a home, rearing a family and keeping a husband happy is a job that you can turn out with one hand while the other hand is doing SOMETHING WORTH WHILE? Will you mean about being tied down with babies, and would you always be throwing in my teeth about how great and wonderful you might have been if you hadn't SACRIFICED ALL by marrying me? If so, speak now, or forever hold your peace, for I do not crave a part-time wife."

And, going on from there, he might inquire further into how she would treat his Mother, and how many of her own family she planned have camp in the guest room, and whether she expected a tired business man to take her stepping every night when his feet hurt and he only wanted to rest them? Also, whether she would buy his neckties and make him eat the kind of food she liked, and make him attend her church and vote for her candidate, or else.

Oh, there are plenty of questions the prospective husband might ask the Girl Friend before marriage, but the trouble is he doesn't. He waits until after marriage, and then it is too late.

Churches Rap Communism and Capitalism

Amsterdam, The Netherlands, Sept. 2. (U. S. P.)—An advisory section of the World Council of Churches condemned both communism and capitalism today. It said neither was an ideology capable of insuring justice and freedom in the world.

The charges against both forms of society were made in a report drawn up by the section on "Church and Disorder of Society." The report was submitted to a plenary session of the council today and leading members of the section said it will undergo only minor revisions.

As the report went to the plenary session, a paragraph was inserted warning against identification of the Christian church with any political party.

"One problem is raised by the existence in several countries of Christian political parties," the paragraph said. "The church as such should not be identified with any political party and must not act as though it were itself a political party. In general, such parties are hazardous because they so easily confuse Christianity with the inherent compromises of politics. They may cut Christians off from other parties which need the leadership of Christianity. They tend to consolidate all who do not share by supplying more vitamin C in the diet."

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

QUESTION: Is a pain under the right shoulder always a sign of gall bladder trouble, and if so, what can be done about it?

ANSWER: This type of pain can come from gall bladder trouble, but other possibilities must be considered. If it is proved to be a sign of severe gall bladder difficulty, treatment usually involves surgical removal of the diseased organ.

(The political principles of the Christian party, not only against itself but against Christianity itself. But when all these warnings have been given, it may still be desirable in some situations for Christians to organize in a political party for specific objectives, so long as they do not claim that it is the only possible expression of Christian loyalty in the situation and so long as such a party will guard against the temptation to continue after any valid reason for its existence has ceased to exist. The same principles would apply to other forms of organized Christian action in public affairs.)

The section is composed of 123 delegates representing about 150 churches in more than 40 nations. The group was headed by Dr. Constantin Leopold Patin, of the Dutch reformed church. It is one of four such working groups. The Roman Catholic church and the Russian church are among those not represented in the world council.

The report castigated communism as "a force that engenders new forms of injustice and oppression." It said capitalism had failed to meet human needs and had concentrated on materialism and produced "serious inequalities."

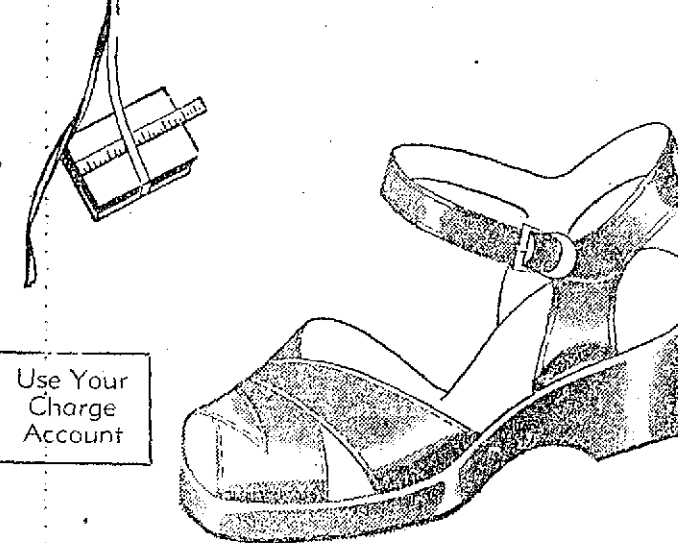

"The Christian church rejects the ideologies of both communism and capitalism and should seek to draw men away from the false assumptions that these are the only alternatives," the report said. "Each has made promises which it would not redeem."

"Communism ideology put emphasis upon economic justice and promises freedom will automatically come after completion of the revolution. Capitalism puts emphasis upon materialism and promises justice will follow as a by-product of free enterprise. That, too, is an ideology which has been proved false."

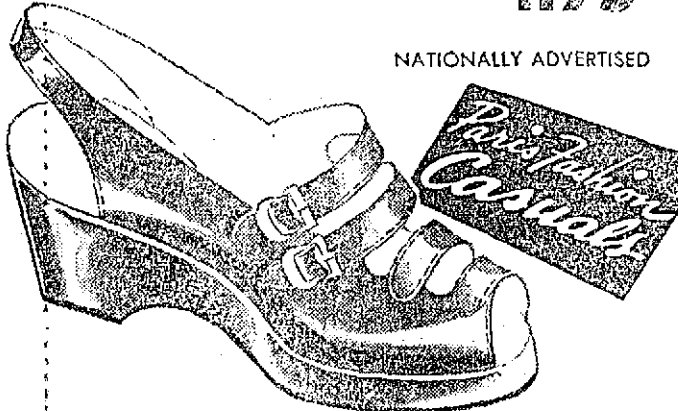

"It is the responsibility of Christians to seek new creative solutions which never allow either justice or freedom to destroy the other."

Communist Offensive in Far East Designed to Defeat Korea Democracy

By DeWitt MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The new and widespread Communist offensive in the Far East to which this column has been drawing attention, is growing more menacing.

The latest development is a threat by the Russian puppet regime of North Korea to destroy the Democratic government which recently was set up in the United States zone of South Korea. Simultaneously the Chinese army newspaper of Nanking warns that civil war is impending in Korea, and U. S. Gen. John R. Hodge, retiring U. S. commander in Korea, contended that there is a possibility of civil war. Hodge, enroute to Washington, expressed the belief in Honolulu that South Koreans would fight any invasion from the North.

However, that is a threat which has to be met, although the Reds have been causing disorders in the Southern theater. Of more immediate concern are the actual Communist rebellions raging in Burma, Malaya, Indo China and Indonesia. This area is among the world's treasure houses, and one upon which many nations place reliance for essential supplies.

From these rich countries come rubber, tin, sugar, rice, oil and other essentials in war and in peace.

The western democracies need some of these supplies for military security. The rehabilitation of Europe and the Orient call for all these products available. Indeed, untold millions of peoples in the Far East are dependent on Burma and other great rice growing areas for this "staff of life."

One of the objects of the widespread Communist offensive in the Orient apparently is not only to deprive the Western Allies of military supplies but to block rehabilitation of nations being aided by America. The world revolution which the Communists are waging is "total war."

Premier Chouen Kai a few days ago admitted that 5 per cent of Burma's armed forces had turned traitor. He declared that the other 95 per cent were waging war on the rebels with modern weapons, but emphasized the seriousness of the situation. The government banks heavily for victory on the fact that religion traditionally knits the country together. The Burmese are strong Buddhists, and thus the population is subject to the differences which exist in India between the hostility between Hindus and Moslems.

Moscow apparently is shifting the weight of its Communist drive to the Far East. A vast new war theatre is being opened up where the Bolsheviks undertake consolidation of their gains in Europe.

Subversive Statement Untrue Committee Says

Washington, Sept. 1 — (AP) — A House subcommittee today said there is no basis for statements made to Congress that "hundreds" of subversive aliens have entered the country under United Nations sponsorship.

The statements were made in testimony before a Senate committee by subcommittee staff department employees.

Subcommittee chair, a committee of private citizens to look into the situation and decide whether existing laws on admitting U. S. officials are adequate to safeguard against subversion.

The committee, in a report published by the state department, said it "checked" by the names in which the statements were made by the subcommittee staff division.

Robert M. Harbo, head of the legislative staff division, and R. Clyde Larkin, chief of the public safety staff division, said they had no recollection of the statements.

in later models of the B-29. This officer flipped on battery switches and removed the short fuse like he was completely familiar with the workings of the plane.

He is reported to have said he studied the B-29s at Vladivostok in 1944. Those were some of the other B-29s which had made forced landings in that area and were seized. One Russian major appeared one day and volunteered the information he was a B-29 pilot.

squad investigator who said he and his men had been watching Mitchum for eight months. "Information is hard to get, but we get it."

"And we are out to get not only the use of the inside man who is supplying the big people in Hollywood with marijuana and other narcotics."

"We have, besides Mitchum, a number of other important and influential Hollywood personalities under surveillance, not only actors and actresses, but others prominent in pictures."

The 21-year-old Mitchum, who worked his way to Hollywood Heights to become a $3,000 a week star, was arrested along with actress Lela Leeds, 20, Dancer Vickie Evans, 25, and Real Estate Agent Robin Ford, 31. Police said a marijuana smoking party was in progress at the time when the four were apprehended.

Two studios for which Mitchum works have rallied to the defense of their star. RKO, recently acquired by millionaire Howard Hughes, and Selznick studios announced that Jerry Giesler, noted Western criminal lawyer who has figured in several cases involving film personalities, will represent Mitchum.

Mitchum and the other three have been released on bail of $1,000 each. A hearing on their petitions for writs of Habeas Corpus has been set for Sept. 8.

The two studios, which have a heavy stake in three unrelated Mitchum pictures, issued a statement asking that the film actor be given the benefit of the doubt until all the evidence is in. Giesler said there were "many unexplained facts and circumstances surrounding the raid" and that the actor's friends were convinced he would be cleared.

Barr said Mitchum had a package with 13 marijuana cigarettes. Giesler said he watched the party smoking the cigarettes for two and one-half hours, peering through a rear bedroom window.

RKO and Selznick have scheduled for release the Mitchum pictures "Raid and the Stranger," "Blood on the Moon," and "The Republic has 'The Red Pony,'" made on Mitchum's loan from Selznick studio.

Mitchum's loan price to other studios had been set by Selznick at $175,000 a picture.

Day. Participating in the talks were Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, R., Mass., and Elliott Bell, one of Dewey's top-ranking speech writers. Dewey said in a press conference last night that the Communists would be kicked out of Washington "just as fast as a Republican president can be elected and start doing it."

Wallace—Henry A. Wallace took his campaign caravan into Mississippi, but he may cancel all his speeches there if the state insists on enforcing segregation laws among his listeners. The Progressive party presidential nominee enjoyed a relatively quiet trip through Alabama yesterday, in contrast to the egg-throwing barrage he sustained in North Carolina. But he refused to speak in Birmingham when city officials made arrangements to separate Negroes and whites in the audience. In a subsequent radio address, Wallace charged that northern still lingers in the shadow of the south's segregation policy.

Louisiana—Russell Lee, son of the late Sen. Huey P. "Kingfish" Long, maintained a slight lead over Applegate, Robert E. Korman in their bid primary race for the U. S. Senate. Late returns from Tuesday's balloting wiped out Korman's early advantage.

Texas—Complete returns from Saturday's election showed former Gov. Coke Stevenson obtained 302 votes more than Rep. Lyndon Johnson in their race for the U. S. Senate seat of retiring Sen. W. O. Maestri. The results are not official yet.

Taylor—Sen. Glen Taylor, Henry Wallace's running mate, suffered a late similar to Wallace's in North Carolina when he was bombarded with rotten eggs and peaches in Rexburg, Idaho. Taylor was not hit.

Tobin—Secretary of Labor Maurice T. Tobin asked New York's liberal party to support President Truman's campaign for a second term.

GOP — Republican Campaign Manager Herbert Brownell, Jr., appointed Barak T. Mattingly of St. Louis, general counsel for the GOP national committee, as director of the labor policies of the Dewey-Warren campaign.

Mental Survey Planned in Two Counties

Little Rock, Sept. 2 — (AP) — A preliminary survey to determine the number of mentally retarded children in Arkansas is planned in Washington and Boone counties.

The Arkansas Council on Youth and Children.

Robert H. Schuler, executive secretary of the council, said today the survey in these two counties would be followed by a statewide survey.

The council hopes to gather information on mentally retarded children who are not receiving educational benefits and provide data for submission to a state mental health survey next January.

Appeal for Conservation of Oil

New York, Sept. 1 — (AP) — State officials of Pennsylvania, Texas and Kansas appealed today for strict conservation of American oil resources to meet this country's rapidly increasing demands.

Efforts to conserve present resources or to discover new oil fields may result in a death of mineral resources for generations yet unborn, said William S. Livingston, Jr., secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs.

If wasteful methods of use and production are continued he added, "there may not be enough for our own generation."

His remarks were contained in an address prepared for the closing session of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission here.

Forests that have been lumbered or burned can be replaced, Livingston said. Exhausted land can be stored and game propagated.

The exhausted oil well, the mined gas pocket, "can not and will not be restored by any means known to science x x x."

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, praised the 21-state commission's waste prevention efforts, saying they accomplished "more than was ever expected."

Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas, in a speech prepared for delivery to be read by Jeff A. Robertson, chairman of the Kansas Corporation commission, cited the spadework done in the Rodessa field of Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas—the first to be handled by cooperative arrangement—as an example of interstate achievement.

The commission's economic advisory committee reported last night that oil demands in the coming winter are estimated to be seven per cent greater than during the severe winter past, even under normal weather conditions.

The industry can meet this demand, the committee said, through continued high production, plus seasonal withdrawals from accumulated stocks, and by keeping oil imports about 200,000 barrels daily above exports.

Secondary recovery projects may extract 5,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil from "depleted" oil fields in five states during the next few years, it was reported today by a committee of the commission.

The five states in which nearly exhausted fields were surveyed for additional recovery possibilities are Illinois, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New York, Pennsylvania and West Texas, according to the Secondary Recovery Advisory Committee.

Its report was presented to the closing session of the commission's summer meeting here.

The committee said the estimated reserve of oil still obtainable from the "depleted" fields amounts to almost 25 per cent of the entire proved crude oil reserves in all the fields of the nation.

Secondary recovery methods consist of adding pressure to the underground oil sands by means of water, gas or sometimes air. The pressure forces the crude oil to accessible levels after it has ceased to flow or seep naturally to the previously active well.

Teachers Expect Enrollment of 1400

Conway, Sept. 2 — (AP) — An enrollment of at least 1,400 students is expected for the fall session of Arkansas State Teachers College opening Sept. 13.

Dr. Nolen M. Irby, president, said today.

This estimate, which represents a decrease from last fall's enrollment of approximately 1,600, is based on expectations of a general decrease in veteran enrollment and general decrease in draft-age students, Dr. Irby said.

Indian Tiger Reported on the Loose

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 2 (UP) — Police said today that "Tillie" may be tame, but they'll shoot first and pat her on the head later.

"Tillie" is a full grown Indian tiger. Her owner, wealthy Palm Beach importer John Randolph Hopkins, describes her as a "household pet." She has been missing since Tuesday night from the garage of some friends of Hopkins.

"Just call 'Kitty, kitty, kitty' here, Tillie, if you see her," Hopkins told police. "She's very gentle. Haven't bitten anybody yet."

Detective Sgt. H. L. Conyers thanked Hopkins for his instructions but decided to issue some of his own. He told his men to turn big game hunter and shoot first and ask questions later.

Apparently Tillie's stripes are just as good camouflage in the winter resort city as they are in the jungle. Only one unidentified resident has seen her since she slipped away to roam the wilds of West Palm Beach.

That individual, not at all alarmed, merely called the police to ask if there was a circus in town. He said he had seen a tiger strolling down the railroad tracks near his home.

Hopkins was most concerned about getting his pet back safe and alive, but he seemed sure she would turn up. When he found Tillie was missing he placed the following one-inch classified ad in the newspaper:

"Missing: Tigress. Answers to the name 'Tillie.' Please telephone 2-1626."

He explained that he has a "Tillie" since she was very young and that she is allowed to roam around his house and go riding in his car.

Hopkins said he inherited his taste for pets from his father, who kept lions around the house. The importer said he also used to own an elephant, a Bengal tiger, and some drills (small West African baboons).

Hopkins' wife, Jean, recently filed suit against him. She wanted money to support herself in a separate residence.

Indians Loom Team to Beat for Crown

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Staff Writer

With Bob Feller serving warning that he is once again the master moundman of old, the Cleveland Indians loomed today as the team to beat for the American League pennant.

In truth, the Tribe is in third place in the American League, trailing the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees. However, with Feller apparently returned to form, and Bob Lemon to back him on the mound, the Indians appear very bright.

The schedule, too, seems to be in their favor. They have 28 games remaining and 23 of them are against second division teams.

Feller turned in his second straight starting performance last night, permitting the Philadelphia Athletics only six hits, and striking out his season high of nine, as the Indians won 2-1.

The victory was Feller's 14th against as many defeats.

He pitched until the ninth when pinch hitter Carl Schuster doubled and scored on Barney McCoy's single.

The Red Sox maintained their hold on first place by routing the Detroit Tigers, 10-1, at Fenway.

Jack Kanner notched his 15th victory against the Athletics, doing out eight hits. The Red Sox collected 10 against four Bengal batters.

Yogi Berra's 13th home run, coming with two out in the last of the 12th, gave the Yankees an up-14-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

Tommy Henrich's two-out double in the ninth chased in Cliff Mapes with the tying run.

The Washington Senators staved off a ninth inning rally to nip the Chicago White Sox 6-0.

The Brooklyn Dodgers opened up a half game lead over the Boston Braves in the third National League game when they turned the tables on Johnny Sauer and defeated the Cubs in Chicago, 6-0.

At the same time, the Braves, who started the day two percentage points behind the Brooklyn, were only a half game in their doubleheader with the Red Sox.

After Johnny Vander Meer's bursting, the Braves bounced back to slaughter the Reds, 11-1.

The St. Louis Cardinals swept third place, defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-1, in a night game in St. Louis.

Right-hander Robin Roberts walked in two St. Louis runs, and Ron Northey cracked a home run.

Southpaw Mon to Kennedy dumped the Pirates into fourth place by pitching the New York Giants to a 3-1 triumph in Pittsburgh.

Ernie Lombardi scored his run in the ninth on a walk, stolen base and Ed Fitzgerald's single. The Giants got all their runs off Ernie Bonham in the fifth. Sid Gordon singled in two and Kennedy the other.

Arkansas Golfers Lose to the Best

New York, Sept. 2 — (AP)—The only thing tougher than the major league pennant battles this season probably will be choosing between Bert Shotton and Billy Meyer as the "champion of the year."

Shotton's Dodgers may win the pennant after being in last place two months ago. Meyer's Pirates also have a better-than-fair chance to cop the flag. Even if they don't, they'll get a lot of satisfaction out of belting the other contenders around.

Lots of Class
 As director of a summer football camp at Boston University, Coach Buff Donnell demanded that each of the high school coaches in his class should submit one offensive and one defensive play for his wing-T formation. That worked out well. Halfway through several of the plays that buff added a requirement that each coach turn in one joke suitable for the rubber chicken circuit. He's opening the fall season with 52 new stories.

Shorts and Shells
 While Hoyt's book on Babe Ruth, due for October publication, will contain a verbatim report of what the Babe and Miller Huggins said in the clubhouse the day Ruth was fined $5,000, Hoyt, scheduled to pitch that day, was the only other guy in the place.

Hogs Appear in Good Condition

Fayetteville, Sept. 2 — (AP)—Arkansas Razorbacks may accomplish more than their coaches had hoped in the period of less than three weeks they have to prepare for the 1948 football opener.

The reason is that 70 candidates who reported for the season yesterday appear to be in unusual physical condition following the summer training. With less trouble in getting the hogs into playing shape, more time can be devoted to scrimmage and game strategy.

Head Coach Barnhill lost no time in two-hour workouts yesterday. He had several backfield units running plays in a dummy scrimmage and the linemen working on their assignments in sessions which closely resembled those of the previous season.

More of the same was scheduled today. Working in what apparently will be the first backfield combination were Clyde (Smackover) Scott, the all-American candidate at tailback, and the Campbell, the bruising fullback who seems to have fully recovered from a knee injury which dogged him last year; passing snapper Ross Pritchard at wingback and Alvin Duke, the veteran blocking back and defensive star.

Among those turning out for the first drills were 23 lettermen, a flock of 1947 squadmen who failed to letter, several junior college transfers and players up from last year's freshman team. A dozen or more others, including lettermen, tackle Leon Whitaker and back Bill Davis, are expected to join the squad within a few days.

The Razorbacks' first game will be with Abilene, Tex., Christian college at Little Rock, Sept. 18.

Last season the starting Bobcat eleven weighed around 165 pounds and its possible this year's team will be near that mark but the Coaches haven't picked the starting squad as yet.

Southwest Looking for Best Year

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference football teams are going about the business of getting ready for a little race which promises to be one of the most wide open in history.

Bulging with veterans, squads thinned to the best during spring drills reported for fall practice openers at the seven member schools yesterday. They will work twice a day through next week to rush preparations.

The largest turnout was at Arkansas, where Coach John Barnhill greeted 70 candidates and looked for more within a few days. The squad, which included 23 lettermen, reported in good physical condition after the summer vacation.

Sixty-five hopefuls reported at Baylor, where Coach Bob Woodruff will try again to produce a determine the two teams which will meet in the finals.

The finals will be a best-four-of-seven series.

Greenwood won the regular season pennant, with Clarksdale second, Hot Springs third and Natchez fourth.

Pacific Coast Docks Idled by Strikers

San Francisco, Sept. 2 -- (AP) -- Pacific coast ports were idled today as CIO longshoremen quit work and prepared with allied unions for a strike.

Pickets will patrol the waterfronts beginning at 10:30 a. m. (local time) today. Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, said he predicted the strike would last three months.

Contract negotiations chiefly concerned with wages and the hiring hall collapsed last night. The strike will affect about 16,000 longshoremen and seafarers. About 500 ships are involved.

The tramp tonnage from Seattle to San Diego will be left across the nation. Railroads had ordered an embargo on most freight destined for the coast ports. Military freight will be shipped.

The longshoremen's walkout was called for 10 a. m. meetings to hear reports on the failure of negotiations which had begun last spring.

Union spokesmen said the strike would become official at 10:30 a. m. because at that time an 80-day federal court injunction forbidding a strike was expected to be dissolved. It halted a threatened strike 60 days ago.

CIO marine cooks and stewards, radio operators are expected to follow the longshoremen out. The unions had agreed not to sign a contract unless all did. The radio operators are also involved in a jurisdictional dispute between the AFL Marine Radio Officers Union and the CIO American Radio Association.

Without a Trade-In, Too

Loaded ships sailed abruptly yesterday to beat the strike deadline. Twenty-five left San Francisco, leaving that many more partly loaded vessels alongside the docks.

Employers had offered to leave the disputed question of whether a union employee or an impartial dispatcher shall run the hiring hall up to the supreme court. The present union dispatcher meanwhile would continue.

But last night Bridges said, "We cannot accept a hiring hall clause with strings on it."

He said another major unsettled issue was wages. Employers offered hourly rates of 16 cents and 15 cents for overtime. The union asked 18 cents straight and 22 1-2 cents overtime.

Post Mortem Fails to Tell Cause of Death

Florida Springs, Sept. 2 -- (AP) -- A post mortem examination into the death of Allen C. Heiber, failed to disclose how the 72-year-old retired minister was killed.

Dr. Ross Van Rell, who conducted the examination, said "there was no means of ascertaining how Heiber met his death" because of the decomposed state of the body.

Heiber's body was found on a hillside near here Tuesday and had been missing from his home about two weeks.

An investigation still is underway by the Carroll county sheriff and Georgia Springs police.

Coroner Roy Nelson previously rendered a verdict of death from natural causes.

Blames U. S. for Halting Price Drop

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 2 -- (AP) -- Harold E. Stassen today accused Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan of a "deliberate attempt to stop the downward trend of food prices."

Stassen, former Minnesota governor, who was defeated for the Republican presidential nomination by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, told a news conference that Brannan's approval, had issue statements intended to "raise food prices when they should be falling down."

The Minnesotan talked to reporters after concluding a conference with Dewey about a speech opening the GOP campaign which Stassen will make in Detroit next Tuesday.

It will be a reply to President Truman's Labor Day address of the same city.

When a reporter asked Stassen whether Brannan himself had issued the food statement, Stassen said he believed it had been issued by the department but that the secretary had supported it later at a news conference.

Stassen described the statement as attributed to Brannan as "very nebulous," and provided no detailed information about it when reporters pressed him for specific details.

Stassen said he was convinced that food prices could be lower within the next two or three months if these conditions were met.

"If the government itself does not abuse its food purchasing power—in other words, if the government does not pull another Pauley,"

(This was a reference, Stassen said, to Edward W. Pauley, a former special assistant to Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall.)

Pauley figured in a Senate investigation several months ago after Stassen had asserted that Pauley had profited in the grain market on the basis of "inside information."

Pauley, in testimony to the committee, acknowledged having made nearly a million dollars in the commodities market but insisted he had no inside information to guide his buying and selling.

2. "Careful consumer purchasing, with emphasis on the cheap and more available foods."

3. "Combat profiteering in food. We must be alert against creating false scarcities."

He added, however, that government food purchasing, if handled wisely, could have the same effect of forcing up prices as was the case with grain speculation.

Vet Hospital Workers to Return to Work

Little Rock, Sept. 2 -- (AP) -- Laborers who walked off their job at the $3,000,000 Veterans Administration hospital here were expected back at work sometime today.

Fred Wingfield, business manager of the Carpenters Local 690 and spokesman for the 103 striking members, said the workers would meet today to reexamine a proposed wage increase offered by the contracting firm working on the project.

The carpenters walked out Monday after demanding a boost of 25 cents above the $1.50 hourly wage. Twenty-six members of the Iron Workers Local 321 stopped work Tuesday after asking for increase above the present scale.

H. V. Elliott, general superintendent of the Patton McDonald and Manhattan Construction Company contractor for the hospital, last night expressed hope for an early settlement of the dispute which has actually stopped work at the hospital.

Elliott said representatives of the Iron Workers union had assured him that striking members would be back at work today.

PENNEY'S

J. C. PENNEY CO., INC.

In this day of high prices you are beginning to hear a familiar complaint revived. It is the high prices of packaged goods. About then a federal commentator jumps up with the remark: "Yes, but the producer doesn't get even half of the proceeds — the lion's share goes to the middleman."

It's the middleman the commentator is talking about. And all through our generation we've supposed to have been trying to cut down on the middleman; but actually we are building him up.

Sure, distribution costs, as such, have gone down with increasing volume of sales; but on the other hand, the public today demands more packaged goods and fewer processed items. But packaged goods require infinitely more labor and investment than old-style merchandise did. So the middleman is being built up to new high levels regardless how much we talk about him.

For illustration, if you read Hal Boyle's article yesterday you know that Hal came back from vacation with a burning subject: America and the world. He reported, for instance, that some of the British women are starting a campaign to get the ladies to take up pipe-smoking and thus relieve the pressure on the cigarette market, which has shot cigarettes up to 75 cents a pack in England.

Well, it's true that once upon a time women smoked pipes, no longer than the day when one of my grandmothers was a girl living in Kentucky. But stuff was more fashionable and a better package than pipe and tobacco. And eventually, of course, there came that No. 1 of packaged tobacco goods, the cigarette.

Now cigarettes have been pushed up to 75 cents a pack in England and it seems to me this points to some kind of a moral on economics. That people today will have perfect convenience regardless of cost or the state of pocketbook; and this is contrary to what the people of yesterday thought and practiced when the world was trying to get ahead instead of just marking time.

After Year Of 'Slave Labor,' Union Worker Isn't Doing Bad

By JAMES THASHER

The Taft-Hartley Law is now a year old. This is the "slave labor law," according to some union heads. But since the law is all of labor's gains, destroy unionism, and introduce fascism to America. But, as the anniversary rolls around, one look in vain for prostrate, bruised and battered unions. The law has not moved. As a matter of fact, the victim looks strong and exceedingly healthy.

Employment is at a record high, and the unemployment has actually grown during the year. The law of "enslavement," prices are high for everyone, including union members. Yet many unions find that their pay is up. Some of the round of increases.

The closed shop is gone, but the union shop remains in plants where the members vote for it. This gives the employer more discretion in hiring. But since the union shop requires a worker to join the union or lose his job, the dues keep coming in to the treasury as they did before.

The power of injunction has been restored under this law. But it has been used on only a handful of occasions. It is now also possible for an employer to talk about unions with his employees. In spite of that much-feared privilege, figures indicate that workers are growing more militant in a great majority of bargaining elections.

To be sure, the Taft-Hartley Law has worked individual hardships. Its provisions prevented John L. Lewis from calling out the country to strike against the coal industry. The same provision kept the railroad unions from accomplishing the same result, only more faster.

The law has also affected some employment. It has caused some officials by demanding that they swear that they are not Communists before their union can have access to the National Labor Relations Board. This very embarrassing, however, has aided the membership of several unions in some long-deferred housecleaning of officers who have been more interested in promoting the party line than the members' welfare.

In short, it can safely be said that the Taft-Hartley Law has worked no great hardship on labor's rank and file.

Some union executives are still saying the same bitter and extravagant things about this law that they did a year ago. But we believe that the honest and intelligent dues-payer, looking back over the past year, will find it hard to discover his chains of enslavement.

The Taft-Hartley Law, like many other laws, is not perfect. But its apparent purpose and effect are sound: to bring the day-to-day pattern of union activity more into harmony with our whole economy and society. The management of commerce and industry have operated for quite a while under some broad government restrictions. Now labor also has a set of rules to go by.

It is not unreasonable to sup-

Former Owners
Buying Up Land
in SPG Area

An announcement was made today by S. Jerome Smith, project manager, Surplus Property Division, that former owners of land within the boundaries of the Southwestern Proving Ground, are still rushing the project office to repurchase land formerly owned by them.

At the beginning of the owner's priority period, 477 tracts were offered for sale. To date, approximately one third of the area has been sold, consisting of approximately 150 tracts. Deeds and abstracts have been delivered on a good portion of these. This represents about 12,000 acres of the original 35,000 acres, sold to former owners.

Any former owner should contact the Project Office in the City Hall in regard to purchase prior to October 4, 1948, which is the expiration date of their priority period. It is expected that the Project Office will be rushed during the last week of this period, and it will be easier for the owners who desire to repurchase, to do so at their earliest convenience.

Any veteran desiring to establish a priority who has not already done so, should contact S. Jerome Smith at the City Hall before October 4. After this date, tracts remaining will be repurchased on a first-come, first-served basis.

After the expiration of all priority periods, the remaining lands will be offered to the public.

Grave-Robber
Gang Broken
in Belgium

Brussels, Sept. 3 — (UP) — A band of grave-robbing "hyenas" who stole the bodies of American soldiers to steal gold rings and gold teeth was reported broken up today with arrest by Belgian police of nine men.

Brussels newspapers described the ghoulies as "soulless hyenas," and said that at least 11 other persons are under surveillance in connection with the series of crimes. Police said six of those arrested were Belgians employed by the U. S. Graves Registration commission to exhume bodies for return to America for final burial. The other three were jewelers in Namur and Dinand who allegedly purchased the gold.

Two of those arrested were said to have had records as Nazi collaborators during the German occupation. They served three years each of 10-year prison sentences for collaboration, police said, and were released last year.

The bodies which were exhumed and robbed were in the American military cemetery of Vosses, in the Ardennes, where are buried Americans who died in the "Battle of the Bulge" in 1944.

Authorities said some bodies were mutilated and that others apparently were hacked to pieces and carried away in bags to places where they could be pillaged later. It was not known how many bodies were involved, but many of the crimes were reported.

To police who butted in she identified herself as Dorothy P. Smith of New York. She looked to be about 30.

A startled bookbinder in the Senate library watched her disrobe outside his workroom window.

After removing the last garment, she stood on the edge of the dome, leaning over a railing to the capitol steps 100 feet below.

Defender of Czech Freedom,
E. Benes, Dies

By RICHARD S. CLARK
United Press Staff Correspondent
Prague, Sept. 3 — (UPI) — Dr. Eduard Benes, who resigned as president of Czechoslovakia last June rather than become a Communist figurehead, died today, in a hospital in Prague.

The statesman who rose to world acclaim from ranks of the peasants was stricken early Tuesday and had been unconscious since. Coughing spasms weakened him, suffering from a "circulatory ailment" finally gave way. He died at his country home at Sezimovo at 6:10 p. m.

Benes had a stroke a year ago. His arteries had hardened. Doctors said Benes had been suffering from a "circulatory ailment." But close friends believed his illness was caused by the case with which he, Communist, took over the country to which he had dedicated his life was more than a contributory cause of his death.

Benes had been at his villa since that fateful February day when he swore in the new Communist government and, with tears in his eyes, strode forever from the presidential palace in Prague.

It was disclosed only yesterday that Benes, helpless in the face of Communist strength, nevertheless held fast to his belief in the old Czechoslovak Republic, and the party led by his signature.

"Not all of the Czechoslovak people desire the destruction of democracy, but you gentlemen and the party led by your desire that I should by my signature declare the Czechoslovak Republic to be a puppet state, and betray the promise, day not only to me, but to the whole nation, 'president-liberator' — we will remain loyal."

"I am doing this solely to prevent the civil war with which you threaten me, and which you are capable of unleashing. However, I believe the Czechoslovak people will understand my act and that the first step in the majority of them will prove that the methods you use are foreign to them, that you have underestimated the moral maturity, the loyalty, and the courage of the Czech people."

House Probers
to Postpone Hearings

By DOUBLAS B. CORNEL
Washington, Sept. 3 — (AP) — The House Un-American Activities committee decided today to postpone until Sept. 15 the resumption of its Red spy hearings.

Chairman Robert E. Stripling said the committee will go ahead then with efforts to unravel conflicts in testimony given by Alger Hiss, former high State department official, and Whitaker Chambers, an avowed former member of a Communist underground.

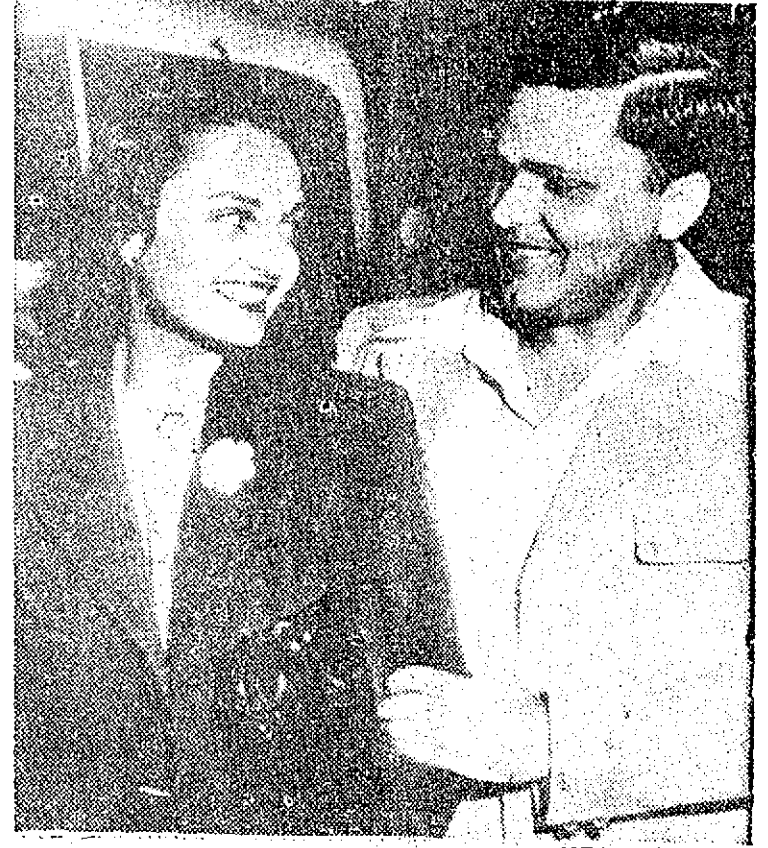

Stripling said Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) has advised him the committee intends to complete the Hiss-Chambers and Elizabeth T. Bentley hearings before getting into the story of a new spy ring.

"I think this will take three weeks," Stripling told reporters. The investigation was to have been resumed Sept. 7. Stripling said the delay is necessary to give the committee and its staff time to complete preparations.

Thomas said the alleged new spy ring which the committee is looking into involves government employees.

Hearings also have been planned for Dr. Edward H. Condon, Federal Bureau of Standards director, accused in a committee report of being "one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security." Condon has replied that the nation is safe in that event. He had denied the committee's accusations. Prior to the committee report, he had been cleared by a federal loyalty board.

Berlin Blockade to Be Lifted
Report Says

By GEORGE BRIA

Berlin, Sept. 3 — (AP) — German reports today said the Russians are making technical arrangements for lifting the 72-year-old blockade of Berlin.

The four Allied military governors held their fourth conference in four days at the Allied control authority building late today.

Resumption of East-West transport came back into the four-power discussions as the working committee on transport exports recommended after a day's recess. It voted after a day's recess. The United States was represented by the deputy military governor, Maj. Gen. George P. Hays.

The British-licensed German Press Service said the director of German news, the Soviet zone had been summoned by Russian transport authorities to be given instructions for these arrangements. This report could not be confirmed in any official quarter.

An American transport official said there had been no indication from the Russians as to when they intend to reopen the rail line to Berlin from Helmsdorf and the East-West canal system.

"It is unlikely," the American transport official said, "that they will do so except the line until they are satisfied with the results of discussions here and in Moscow."

"Nor will they get any coal or iron trains from the Ruhr to feed their zone's industry until they lift the blockade and restore normal communications to our satisfaction."

The four military governors arranged another session (10 a. m. EST) on this divided city's problems as the Communist press of Berlin declared the negotiations now in the fourth day here — were turning into a Soviet diplomatic triumph. Soviet-licensed newspapers gloated over reports that the Western Allies had agreed to adopt the Russian-backed plan for all banks. Authoritative informants said the negotiators had hit one tough snag. That, they said, was a Russian demand for a favorable exchange rate for their Eastern German mark in trade between Eastern and Western Germany.

These informants said the Russians insist upon a straight one-for-one exchange of East-West marks, but German financial circles in the Western zones contend that the Western mark is worth at least four East marks.

Finish Fight
Indicated in West Strike

San Francisco, Sept. 3 — (AP) — The Pacific Coast waterfront strike today assumed the proportions of a "finish fight" between three big maritime unions and the shipping industry.

Caught by the 24-hour-old tieup were 120 ships in West Coast ports from Puget Sound to Mexico. Some 12,000 longshoremen and 16,000 seafarers were idled in the bitter contract dispute.

Ten to a dozen pickets were on every San Francisco bay dock today — and similarly on docks in Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles.

They were members of Harry Bridges' CIO longshoremen, of the CIO marine cooks and stewards, and the independent marine firemen. The use of marine engineers and the AFL radio officers expected to join picket lines shortly.

Bridges warned his men to prepare for a strike of four to six months.

"When this strike is finished, we will be out of business or they (the shipowners) will be out of business. Bridges told longshoremen at a meeting.

Henry Wallace on Ballot as Independent

Little Rock, Sept. 3 — (AP) — Supporters of Henry A. Wallace sprang into action today by filing a petition on Arkansas' November General election ballot as "Independents."

Secretary of State C. G. Hall, who admitted he was surprised by the action, called it a "subterfuge."

At 11:45 a. m. (EST), the hurricane was centered about 350 miles east of Brownsville, Tex. — latitude 26, longitude 92.5 — and about 300 miles south of New Orleans. Top winds were reported to be 75 miles an hour, and it was moving slowly — about 10 miles an hour.

W. R. Stevens, chief forecaster for the New Orleans weather bureau, ordered hurricane warnings from the mouth of the Mississippi river, about 25 miles northeast of New Orleans, to Vermilion bay, 150 miles to the west.

Hurricane velocity winds were centered "over a small area." Winds up to 45 miles an hour extended 250 miles East and North of the center.

Hundreds of ships, and boats, from freighters and passenger ships to shrimp and fishing boats, are usually in the upper Gulf area. The coast guard said it did not know immediately how many ships and boats were in the hurricane and storm area.

But it was warning of all ships in the Gulf to head for port. Coast guard patrols will be sent out to warn boats without radios. Messages will be dropped to small vessels from planes.

The coast guard said the hurricane appeared to have built up a few hours. Last night, a small disturbance was reported in the Gulf, but the first news that it was a hurricane was announced by the weather bureau at 11:45 a. m. (EST).

State Asked to Buy Idle
M&A Line

Little Rock, Sept. 3 — (AP) — Governor Laney has been asked to call a special session of the Arkansas legislature to consider state purchase of the Missouri and Arkansas railway.

State Senator Ernest Nicholson of Harrison said last night he had written the governor asking for a special session to make it legally possible for the state to buy the long line.

The governor currently is out of the state. Nicholson suggested to newsmen that the state condemn the M. & A. and buy it and then lease it for proper operation.

This suggestion had the backing of Eugene Warren, Little Rock attorney for a special citizens committee seeking to reopen the railroad.

Hurricane

New Orleans

By PRESTON MCGRAW

New York, Sept. 2.—In the opening sentence of his book called "The American Way," which is published by the Communist press, Bert Andrews, a Washington journalist, presents himself as a warrior for "your" civil liberties.

Mr. Andrews hastens to heap gaudy honor on himself when, on his 20th little page, he salutes a dull and motivated series of his own essays, published in the New York Herald Tribune, as "an account that shocked the nation's conscience and encouraged those who had been too timid to fight for civil liberties."

Not since the Herald Tribune advertised the rubbish of the Levantine sneak known as John Roy, and the paltry heroes of a frightened nation have encountered such pretentious claims for such seedy journalism.

This fellow readily acclaims himself as a Zola, a hero whose words were fired off in the casting. Like Carlson, who all but collapsed in terror awaiting an interview with Senator Bob Reynolds, of North Carolina, a harmless fat head, Mr. Andrews confesses that he found himself brave and fine.

The Herald Tribune, which he serves in Washington, itself so dearly prized these liberties that it refused to publish his trash. They have not only refused to publish his trash, but they have also refused to publish his trash. ## Both Parties Charge 'Cheap Politics'

By JAMES F. DONOVAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Democrats and Republicans traded charges of "cheap politics" and "deception" today in an angry skirmish over the top two issues of the campaign—Communism and government and high food prices.

The debate gave voters a clear indication of the oratory to come when President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York took the formal campaign trail in election later on this month.

Dewey, the GOP presidential nominee, started the present battle late Wednesday when he said it would take a Republican president to remove Communism from the federal payroll.

And Harold E. Stassen, who will take the stump for Dewey in the campaign, charged yesterday that the administration through its "deception" program was deliberately keeping the price of food down.

President Truman struck back at both statements at his news conference late yesterday. He said the price of food was being kept down by the federal government, which he said had been discovered and discharged.

Moreover, the president said, he will take time during his campaign to prove that he can speak for the people.

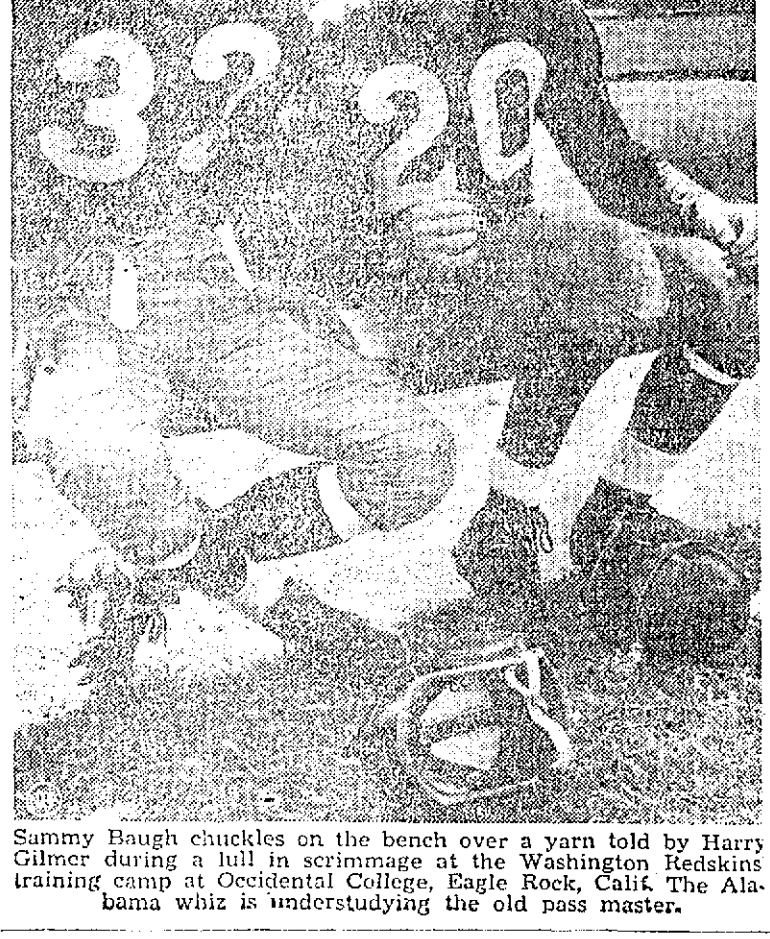

Stassen's statement, the president said, "didn't believe" where he had been since Aug. 4 or how he is supporting himself, except that he had under consideration "a project with a reputable firm of realtors."

'A Foreign Affair' Is Love-Comedy About Occupation Forces

Saenger Sunday Feature Boasts All-Star Cast

"A Foreign Affair," which arrives at the Saenger Sunday is a laugh-and-love affair of riotous proportions. Produced by Charles Brackett, directed by Billy Wilder, the Paramount comedy about life among the American Occupation forces in post-war Berlin is highly original and entertaining.

Starring Jean Arthur, Marlene Dietrich and John Lund, it tells of an over-zealous Congresswoman (Miss Arthur), who arrives in Berlin with a committee to investigate the status of G. I. morale. Her suspicious aroused by the open fraternizing with Germans, Jean pretends she is a German girl and learns that the glamorous ex-Nazi night club star, Miss Dietrich, is now under the protection of an American officer.

The shocked congresswoman decides to track the man down and expose him. She is given the assistance of Captain John Pingle (John Lund), assigned to her by Colonel Plummer (Millard Mitchell). The captain is, of course, the officer she seeks, and he does everything in his power to frustrate her investigation, including the waging of a campaign for her love, Marlene, however, uses a few tricks to break up Jean's romance. But when Lund, realizing he loves the little Washingtonian, wants to break away from Marlene, the Colonel informs him the affair must continue long enough to bring the singer's Nazi boy friend out of hiding. Things happen fast and furiously when the jealous Nazi emerges, all of them satisfactory not only to the Colonel, Jean and Lund—but also to the audience as well.

Backgrounds for the film were actually shot in Berlin and the sight of the bombed-out city is very interesting.

Miss Dietrich, more glamorous than ever, sings three torchy songs as only she can—"Illusions," "The Ruins of Berlin" and "Black Market."

All in all "A Foreign Affair" is definitely a movie to make your affair.

84-Year-Old to Make Singing Debut

New York, Sept. 2.—An 84-year-old man, who used to sell pianos in Los Angeles, will make his concert debut as a singer in Town Hall here Sept. 8.

He is John Taher Fitzgerald, who maintains that life begins at 70.

He said that is how old he was when the depression wiped out his piano business in 1933, and the woman who is now his wife started giving him singing lessons.

"The world needs songs more than it ever did," he said, "and I make good, why I'll keep on singing for the public, as long as they want to hear me."

Fitzgerald, a short, wiry man with a shock of white hair and a portly voice, said none of his friends in California knew about his scheduled debut when he left there recently.

"I just told everybody I was coming East to look at some piano factories," he said.

Fitzgerald's appearance at Town Hall, during which he will sing 16 numbers, will be the first time he has sung before an audience.

The engagement was arranged by Mrs. Fitzgerald after she consulted with Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, author and music critic.

"When I said I was eighty-four," Mrs. Fitzgerald said, "they became very interested and they would fit him in a day before their regular concert season was to open."

Fitzgerald said he was greatly encouraged about his voice. Just before going to Italy where he studied under Nunzio Bari in Naples.

But until he was 70, he said "I never sang a note before—not even in the bathtub."

Reds Destroy Democracy Czechs Told

By RICHARD S. CLARK

Prague, Sept. 2.—(UPI)—President Eduard Benes told the Czech Communists they were destroying democracy when he accepted the cabinet they drafted last February, the United Press learned today from an unimpeachable source.

This revelation came as the 61-year-old former Czech leader, who retired in bitter disillusionment after the Communist coup, slithered slowly and steadily nearer death at his suburban villa in Sazavka Usti, south of Prague.

Benes right side is paralyzed, he has been in a deep coma since early yesterday, said physicians, and he was "continuing to weaken gradually."

Newsweek recordings of Benes' remarks when he was forced to accept the Communist cabinet were released to the public, the United Press learned.

Until last February, the Czech elder statesman had remained aloof from the political scene, holding together a coalition government in which both Communist and non-Communists were included.

Then he was forced to accept Communist rule. He did so in a speech to Clement Gottwald, now president, but who became the first Communist premier of the nation. This speech was recorded for newsreels.

The hitherto unpublished part of it, they told Press learned today, included these words:

"Not all of the Czechoslovak people desire the destruction of democracy, but you gentlemen and the party led by you do desire that I should by my signature destroy democracy in Czechoslovakia and betray the promise dear not only to me but to the whole nation which lies in the words, 'president-liberator—we will remain loyal.'"

"I am doing this solely to prevent the civil war with which you threaten me, and which you are capable of unleashing. However, I believe the Czechoslovak people will understand my act, and that on the first occasion a majority of them will prove that the methods you use are foreign to them, and that you have under-estimated the moral maturity, the loyalty, and the democratic effort of our people."

joining the faculty of John Brown University here in 1921. He became a teacher at Shoam Springs high school in 1943 and recently opened a general merchandise store here.

He was a graduate of the University of Arkansas and Peabody College of Nashville, Tenn.

Davis is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katherine Murdoch Davis, a writer; a daughter and two sisters.

Lifelong State Democrat Is GOP Speaker

By JIM THOMASON

Little Rock, Sept. 2.—(P)—A "lifelong Democrat" was the keynote speaker at the nominating meet of the Arkansas Republican state committee here today.

He is Jefferson W. Speck of Frenchman's Bayou, Mississippi county, 31-year-old World War II hero, whose address, prepared for delivery at the GOP state committee meeting, was a brilliant denunciation of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Henry A. Wallace and Harry S. Truman.

The meeting was called to consider action on a Republican state ticket and early arrival indicated that C. R. Black of Carling would be the party's nominee for governor. Black was keynote speaker at the Republican state convention here in May.

Oscar Cobb, Republican state committee chairman, said Speck was selected to make the keynote address at the meeting after he had volunteered his services to the committee.

A graduate of Georgia Tech and Fordham law school, he was a major in the artillery in World War II and was captured by the Japs on Mindanao. He received the Purple Heart, Silver Star and other military awards.

Speck, unsuccessful candidate for the Senate in the Democratic primary two years ago, said in his keynote address that "I now realize this (Democratic) party x x x would change the form of government in the United States."

He charged "Harry Truman is trying to delicately outbid Wallace for the Communist and radical vote in this country."

But that is understandable, he said, adding: "Well, Truman is looking out for the common man, and that common man is Harry S. Truman."

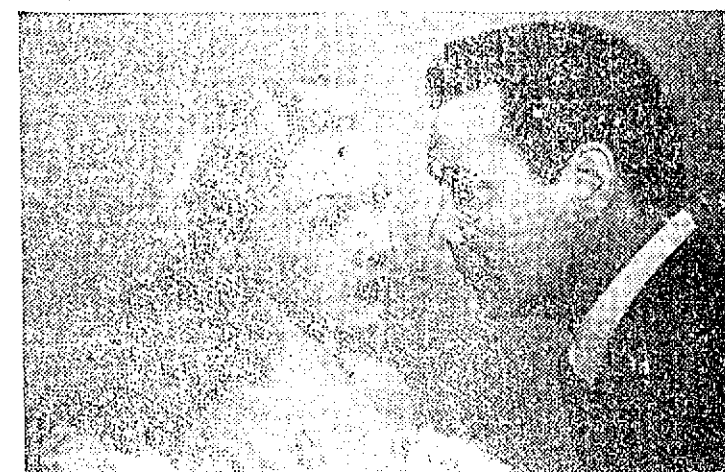

Speck also charged that Mr. Truman and his "planners and believers in a strong central government" appeared "blind" to the "infallible and capitol and will not make mistakes." But he cited a recent government estimate that at present there would be from seven to nine million unemployed in the United States.

MacArthur's Statement That Japan Is 'Morally Equipped' Is Encouraging to World

Widow Admits Slaying Two Children

Portland, Ore., Sept. 3.—(UPI)—A 30-year-old widow, who police said confessed killing her two children because she couldn't support them with a $75-a-month relief check, was held today for the sheriff of Grants Pass.

The bodies of Mrs. Francis Irene McCurdy's two children, Pamela 11, and Paul, 10, were found in an auto court at Grants Pass yesterday. A few hours later Mrs. McCurdy was picked up at the Portland bus depot by detectives. Police said she readily confessed the double killing.

"We didn't have enough money for food," police quoted her. "We couldn't live."

She said she took the two children to the auto court Wednesday and registered as Mrs. Carl Peters. Then she dressed the children into bed and gave each of them six sleeping tablets, she said.

"I told them the pills would get them from getting ill on anything they ate in Grants Pass," she told police. "They went to sleep. Then I stabbed them with a knife and tore a bus to Portland."

John McComb, caretaker at the auto court, found the bodies after an anonymous telephone call suggested he go look at the auto court. Mr. McCurdy admitted to police later that she made the call.

McCumb notified Police Chief Carl Dalls of Grants Pass. The bodies were lying side by side on the bed. Both had been stabbed near the heart with a butcher knife which protruded from the boy's chest.

Mrs. McCurdy told police her husband had committed suicide four years ago. She said she had been forced to sell her home, but it had been bought again heavily and she received very little for it.

Soviet Russia is made up of 11 republics but one, the Russian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic, occupies almost 80 percent of the country.
